DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The preliminary amendment filed on 9/2/2003 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 37-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Matsui (USP 5,661,707).

Matsui discloses in Figure 4A a method of scrambling input data that comprises the steps of generating scramble data (20) having a value that is randomly determined (see col.4, lines 7-62), generating a pseudo random number sequence in accordance with the value of the scramble data, and generating scrambled data by performing a logical operation (40) on the pseudo random number sequence and the and the input data (S3) (see col.4, lines 2-6) to be recorded on a recording medium.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 43 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: Calls to Applicant's Attorney were initiated by the Examiner to have a better understanding of the claimed language. The Examiner believed that the claims as drafted are broad and consequently the cited references can be read on the claimed. Limitations such as "generating scramble data having a value which is randomly determined" is not described in detail in the specification, the drawings do not clearly illustrate this particular limitation, hence it is differently interpreted by the Examiner and Applicant. Examiner agreed to re-read portion of the specification indicated by Applicant to erase any misinterpretation of the above limitation. .
